

7th ANNUAL BANNER DESIGN CONTEST

2021 Contest is Sponsored by The City of Farmington, First State Community Bank, Unico Bank and Mineral Area Council on the Arts

WHO:

Local K-12 students in public, private, and home schools in the Mineral Area.

WHAT:

Art will once again bloom this spring as we decorate the light pole banners in four area towns! In addition to Farmington and the Arcadia Valley, we will also have student art displayed on the poles in Bismarck and Potosi! This year's theme is "It's a Brand New Day!" What would you do with a day without limitations? Show us your favorite thing to do! All artwork should be an original drawing, painting or illustration to depict the theme.

WHEN:

All entries should be submitted to the Mineral Area Council on the Arts (MACOA) office (P.O. Box 1000, Park Hills, MO 63601 or Mineral Area College Fine Arts Bldg #134) or the Farmington Public Library by Friday, January 29, 2021. All artwork should be submitted flat and may be mailed or hand-delivered. Winning entries from the Arcadia Valley, Bismarck, and the Potosi school districts will be displayed in each town respectively. All other winning entries will be displayed in downtown Farmington during 2021. The banners will include credit to the winning artist.

HOW:

The official entry form is the second page of this document. Print the form and create your design within the vertical rectangle. Some things to consider when creating your design:

- Bigger is better. Large graphics will translate better to the banner than a smaller, more intricate design.
- Think bold. Strong, saturated colors will translate well.
- Consider your medium for reproduction. The artwork will be scanned into a computer to create the banner. Paints and markers may reproduce better than crayons or pencils.
- Some cropping near the edges may occur when the banners are created. Keep this in mind when you design and keep your most important images toward the center of the banner.
- All entries should include elements to represent the theme. You may choose to include the words "It's a Brand New Day", but it is not necessary.
- Work should be original and shall not include copyrighted images such as branded cartoon characters.
